

Space Exploration Space exploration refers to the discovery and exploration of celestial structures in outer space by means of evolving technologies. Major milestones include the moon landing and Mars rover missions.